

MORE THAN A SONG

SCHOLARSHIP AS WORSHIP IN THE CHURCH, THE ACADEMY, AND THE PUBLIC SQUARE

13-15 MARCH 2025

NORTHWEST UNIVERSITY,
KIRKLAND, WA

GREETINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT OF NORTHWEST UNIVERSITY

Welcome to the Great Northwest! Most people think of our region as the least church-ed region in the country, and that assumption has a basis in truth. But the State of Washington actually has the highest percentage of Pentecostals of any state in America (or at least as high as any other). Furthermore, religion scholar James Wellman of the University of Washington has dubbed Kirkland “the Bible Belt of the Pacific Northwest,” so you have come to a friendly environment.

Northwest University takes great delight in hosting the 54th Annual Meeting of our favorite scholarly fellowship, The Society for Pentecostal Studies. As an Assemblies of God University celebrating our 90th Anniversary this year, our scholars have participated in the society since its earliest years, and we have perceived enormous benefit from it. This year’s theme, MORE THAN A SONG: Scholarship as Worship In the Church, the Academy, and the Public Square offers a fitting summary of our daily spiritual sacrifice as we love God with all our being, especially our minds.

As you arrive on campus, we pray that Spirit of Christ will dwell richly among you as you worship here, speaking to you deeply in the presentations, conversations, fellowship, and prayers. We ask the Lord to show you new things, reveal solutions to problems, connect you to new colleagues, and direct you into new endeavors. May God be greatly glorified in this unique reunion of scholars and friends. There are precious few other societies like it in the world!

With enthusiasm,
Joseph Castleberry
President, Northwest

MEETING OVERVIEW

Along with plenary speakers and interest group sessions, the conference includes a Thursday evening reception, working-lunch meetings, a Society business meeting, a women’s caucus luncheon, and a banquet. During the conference, attendees will have opportunities to socialize, become acquainted with other SPS participants, and share their scholarly interests and current work. Attendees will also enjoy discounted prices on a variety of books and other products exhibited by vendors and ministries.

THEME

How might the academic task be considered worship? How might the academy inform worship and worship the academy? How does the culture of the worship community influence worship practices locally, globally, ecumenically and as a public theology? How might worship engage culture — e.g. film, art, theater, technology and yet be countercultural in the practice of worship and prayer? How might worship relate to issues of justice and inequity as well as pressing ecological theological issues? In a so-called post-post-modern world, how do scholars integrate Christian faith as expressed in worship and learning. We invite scholarly studies of theology, history, and practice of Christian worship within Pentecostal/charismatic expressions. Each discipline is encouraged to contribute their specialist, critical insight, and engagement.

“I myself have carefully investigated everything from the beginning. I too decided to write an orderly account for you...”
(Luke 1:2)

PLENARY SPEAKERS

Susan Maros is Affiliate Associate Professor of Christian Leadership at Fuller Theological Seminary where she teaches courses on leadership and on formation, and supervises doctoral work. She is president of the Association of Professors of Mission, past president of the Academy of Religious Leadership, and an associate editor of Pneuma: The Journal of the Society of Pentecostal Studies. Her publications include Power, Agency, and Women in the Mission of God (2024) and Calling in Context: Social Location and Vocational Formation (2022).

“Power and Praise: The Need for Critical Reflection in Worship and Leadership”
Truls Åkerlund | Norwegian School of Leadership and Theology (time TBD)

---

Truls Åkerlund (PhD) is Professor in Leadership at the Norwegian School of Leadership and Theology (HLT). Prior to entering academia, he worked as a journalist and teacher in media and communication. He has published numerous academic articles as well as five books, of which one – “A Phenomenology of Pentecostal Leadership” (Wipf & Stock, 2018) – is available in English. He has been a church planter and pastor in a Pentecostal church, is a minister in the Norwegian Pentecostal movement and a frequent speaker in churches and conferences in Norway and abroad.

“Sing to the Lord a 'New' Song: Towards a Pneumatology of Spontaneity in Corporate Worship.”
David Taylor | Fuller Theological Seminary (time TBD)

---

W. David O. Taylor is Associate Professor of Theology and Culture at Fuller Theological Seminary and the author of several books, including Prayers for the Pilgrimage (IVP, 2024), A Body of Praise (Baker Academic, 2023), Open and Unafraid (Thomas Nelson/HarperCollins, 2020), Glimpses of the New Creation (Eerdmans, 2019), and The Theater of God's Glory (Eerdmans, 2017); he is also editor of The Art of New Creation (IVP Academic, 2022), Contemporary Art and the Church (IVP Academic, 2017), and For the Beauty of the Church (Baker Books, 2010). In addition to a range of popular essays, Taylor has published articles in the Calvin Theological Journal, Christian Scholars Review, Worship, Theology Today, and Image Journal, among others.

He serves on the advisory board for Duke Initiatives in Theology and the Arts as well as IVP Academic's series, “Studies in Theology and the Arts,” and is a core participant in the multi-year scholarly project, “Theology and the Visual Arts,” hosted by King's College, London. An ordained Anglican priest, he has lectured widely on the arts, from Thailand to South Africa. In 2016 he produced a short film on the psalms with Bono and Eugene Peterson. He lives with his family in Austin, Texas, and can be usually found trying to make sense of the world on Twitter (@wdauidotaylor).
